LEASE vs HIRE PURCHASE vs LOAN

Use this Decision Tree to identify the appropriate treatment under Ind AS / AS and related tax implications.

EXPLANATION OF RESULTS

RESULT	EXPLANATION
Finance Lease (Ind AS 116)	If substantially all risks and rewards are transferred, or there is a purchase option expected to be exercised, or the asset is used for a major part of its economic life – lease is classified as Finance Lease.
Operating Lease (Ind AS 116)	If risks and rewards are not transferred and none of the above conditions are met – lease is classified as Operating Lease.
Not a Lease	If the agreement does not give the right to use the asset for a major part of its economic life, and risks & rewards are not transferred – it is treated as Hire Purchase / Loan or other arrangement.

EXAMINER TIP

- Always start with the transfer of risks and rewards test.
- Do not jump to conclusions – follow the sequence.
- Write the logic clearly before stating the conclusion.
- Refer Ind AS 116 paragraphs 31 & B34–B38 for detailed guidance.

SMART EDGE

- Draw decision trees in the exam for complex questions.
- Use headings and sub-headings for clarity.
- Integrate examples from industry for better application.

QUICK RECALL

The core principle is to identify who controls the use of the asset and who bears the risks and rewards of ownership.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- ✓ Ind AS 116 aims to bring lessees' assets and liabilities on balance sheet unless it is an Operating Lease.
- ✓ Classification depends on substance of the contract, not the legal form.
- ✓ Decision Tree helps in quick analysis and accurate classification.

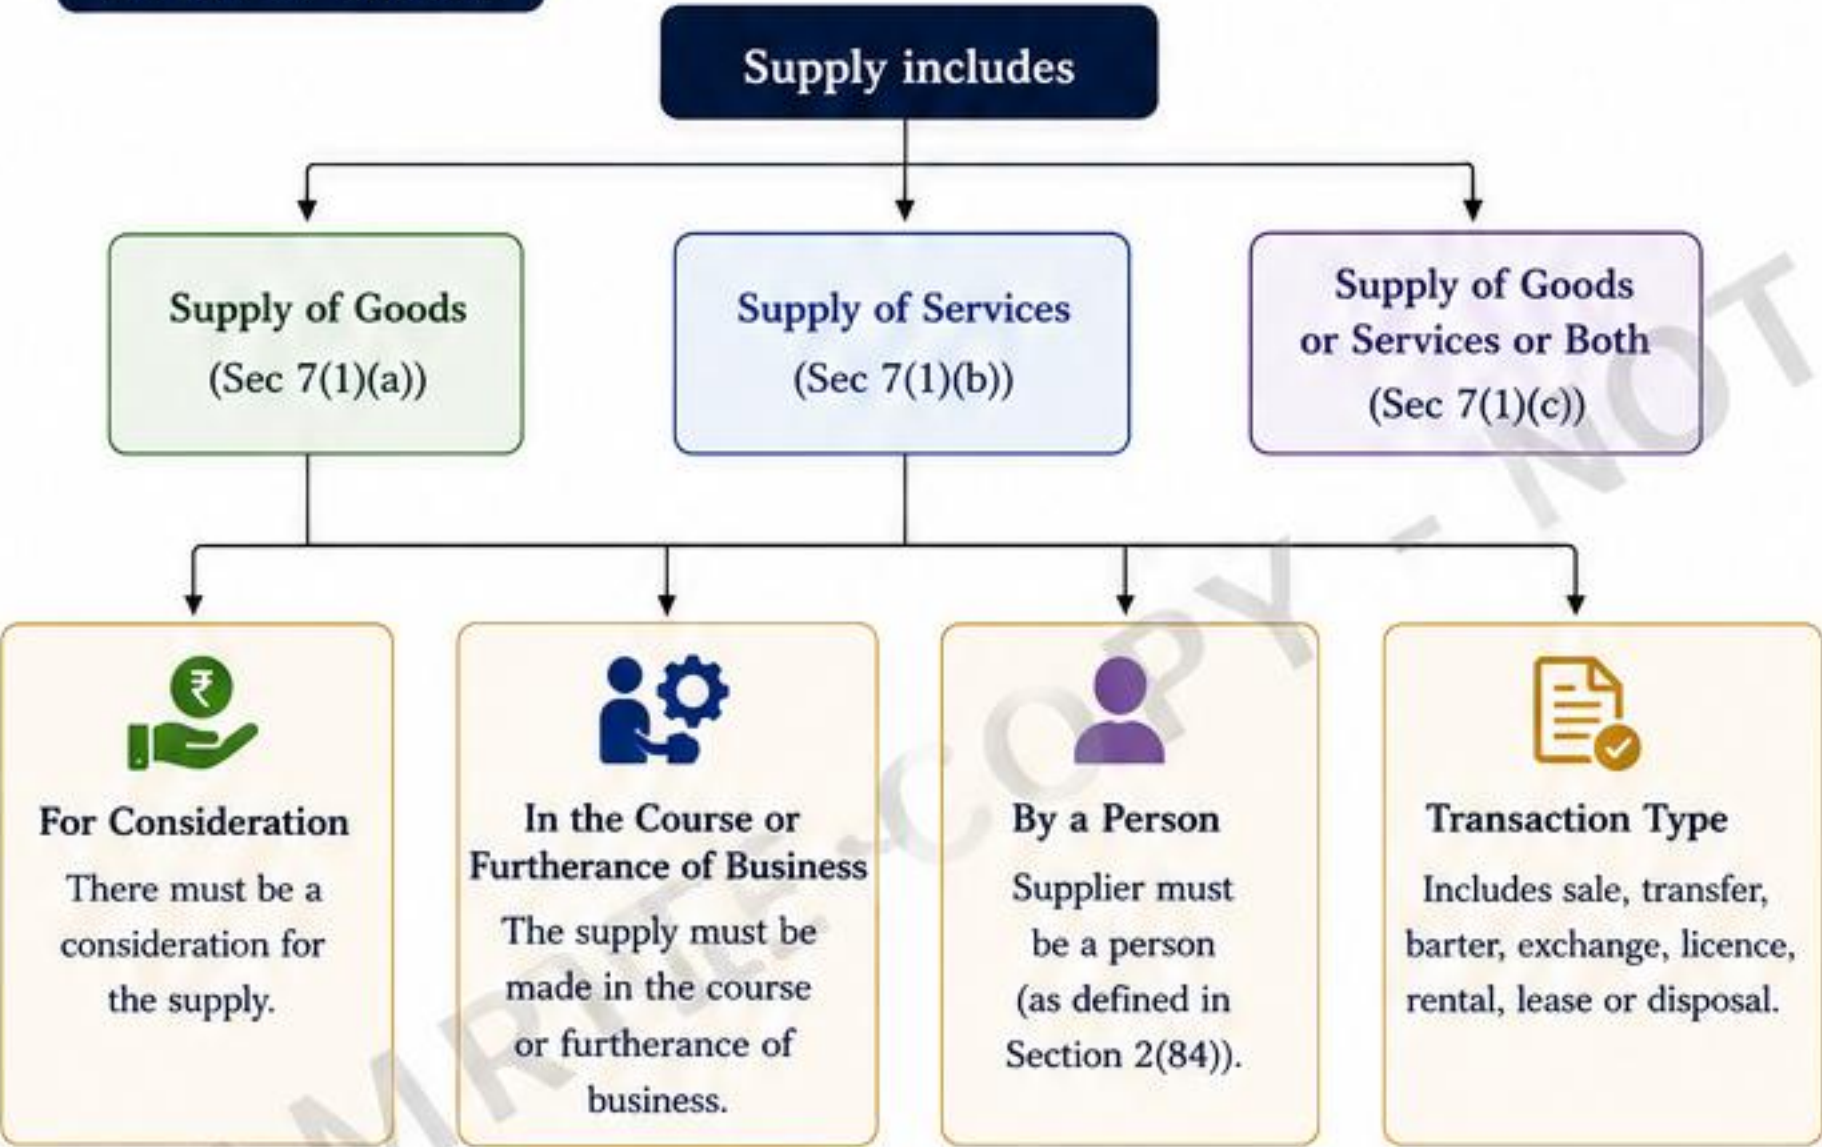

3.1 SUPPLY – CLASSIFICATON

Supply is the most important and widely examined concept in GST.

DEFINITION (SECTION 7 OF CGST ACT, 2017)

“Supply” includes all forms of supply of goods or services or both such as sale, transfer, barter, exchange, licence, rental, lease or disposal made or agreed to be made for a consideration by a person in the course or furtherance of business.

SCOPE OF SUPPLY

KEY POINTS

- ✓ Activities which are not a supply are outside the ambit of GST.
- ✓ Schedule III of CGST Act lists activities which are treated neither as supply of goods nor supply of services.
- ✓ Composite Supply (Sec 2(30)) and Mixed Supply (Sec 2(74)) are distinct concepts.
- ✓ Supply is a wider term and covers both intra-state and inter-state supplies.
- ✓ Import of goods and services are also treated as supply (Sec 7(1)(c)).

EXAMPLES

S.No.	Illustration	Whether Supply?	Reason
1.	Sale of goods by a manufacturer	Yes	Goods + Consideration + Business
2.	Licensing of software	Yes	Service + Consideration + Business
3.	Gift given without consideration	No	No consideration
4.	Transfer of business as a going concern	Yes	Transfer of assets for consideration
5.	Grant of sovereign power (e.g., issuance of driving licence)	No	Not in the course or furtherance of business

EXAMINER TIP

- Always start the answer with the legal definition.
- Use keywords from the definition in your answer.
- For case scenarios, apply the 4 tests: Consideration, Course of Business, Person and Transaction Type.
- Give real-life examples to strengthen your answer.

SMART EDGE

- If any one of the 4 essential elements is missing, it is NOT a supply.
- Subsidies linked to price reduction are part of consideration.
- Activities by Government in sovereign functions are NOT supply.
- Import of services is also treated as supply.

MEMORY BOX

SUPPLY MANTRA

C C P T

- C Consideration
- C Course or furtherance of Business
- P By a Person
- T Transaction Type

Remember: All 4 must exist for it to be a Supply.

NOTE

Refer ICAI Case Scenarios for application.

Practise past questions for better clarity.

Use diagrams and headings for structured answers.
